The trimurti, the Indian trinity, consists of Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva. Brahma is the builder, Vishnu is the preserver, and Shiva is the destroyer. Unfortunately, the Indian world view has remained in the state that is had 4,000 years before the birth of Christ.

Meanwhile, there is a fourth person of the deity: Adam. The spirit of Adam got something from the building force of Brahma, something from the preserving force of Vishnu, and something from the destroying force of Shiva. The spirit of Adam has arisen by the melting of these three forces.

The Hebrew book of the Genesis says that Adam was made of earth. But the letters of the Hebrew word "Adama" that is usually translated with "earth" indicate to the properties of the gods Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva. Therefore, Adam is the fourth person of the deity - beside Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva.

Adam did not fall in sin! For Adam is the fourth person of god.

The female aspect of Adam is Lilith. Therefore, Lilith is the fourth female person of the deity - beside Sarasvati, Lakshmi und Parvati.
